A purple cartoon bird with large white eyes and an orange beak is shown from the chest up. It has its arms raised in a gesture of surprise or protest. The bird is surrounded by several bright pink, ribbon-like bands that swirl around it. The background is a solid pink color, decorated with several small, white, four-pointed star or diamond shapes. A white speech bubble with a black outline is positioned above the bird's head, containing the text "I DON'T WANT A HOIK YET!".
